Experience shows...

Elite Accessories specialise in designing and manufacturing contemporary audio visual furniture that is desirable, beautifully made and 100% functional – not to mention excellent value for money!

The team behind Elite have many years experience in the multimedia industry, gaining the invaluable knowledge that has enabled them to design and create the popular range of stands in this brochure. Ideal for showing off a wide range of television sizes – plus home theatre and multimedia components – the stands will enhance any room, creating a stylish look for interiors both traditional and contemporary. Lastly, and by no means least, the stands feature the acclaimed Elite Cable Management System – the perfect way to keep wires and cables safe, neat and tidy... and hidden from view.

Premium

The Premium range offers an affordable but stylish solution for the design conscious buyer. Beautifully manufactured, these superb television stands are specially designed for contemporary LCD and plasma screens.

As with the Prestige range, a feature of these stands is the Elite Cable Management System, which effectively 'hides' any unsightly cables, leads and wires within a functional, yet visually attractive, central rear pillar. Even though hidden from view, all cables can be easily accessed by the removal of an access panel at the rear of the stand.

Available in two sizes, both are available in either clear or black glass.

Media

Available in two options – either all-black, or black and walnut. Both options features the same high quality glass shelves as used on our Prestige and Premium stands. The shelves are perfectly spaced to accommodate a wide range of multimedia separates. A unique design feature of the Media range is the additional storage for up to 68 DVD or Blu-ray cases.

Both stands in the Media range are able to accommodate a 40kg TV – which makes them ideal for most LCD, plasma and traditional CRT television sets.

Angolo

Angolo is the latest addition to the Elite collection – designed specially for those who want to place their TV in the corner of a room. With its high quality black glass-topped shelving and durable, black vinyl covered MDF, Angolo offers the perfect solution without compromising on style.

The Angolo shelves are spaced to accommodate a wide range of multimedia separates. Centrally-located holes at the rear of the stand allow neat and tidy cable management, keeping leads and wires accessible, yet out of sight.

The Elite Promise

With many years combined experience in designing and manufacturing contemporary audio visual furniture, the Elite team guarantee the highest standards of design and manufacture.

Elite are committed to producing furniture that is not only affordable but also designed to complement a wide range of interiors, both modern and traditional.

Elite stands are designed to withstand the weight of most popular televisions from leading manufacturers. Shelving is spaced so that it can accommodate additional standard-sized multimedia components. The Elite Cable Management System has been created to conceal unsightly cable and wires, yet give access once the stand is fully loaded.

Should any stand not meet customer requirements, Elite will gladly take on-board comments with a view to the continued improvement of the design of their products.

Strength
